Habitat for Humanity® Victoria

Building homes, communities and hope

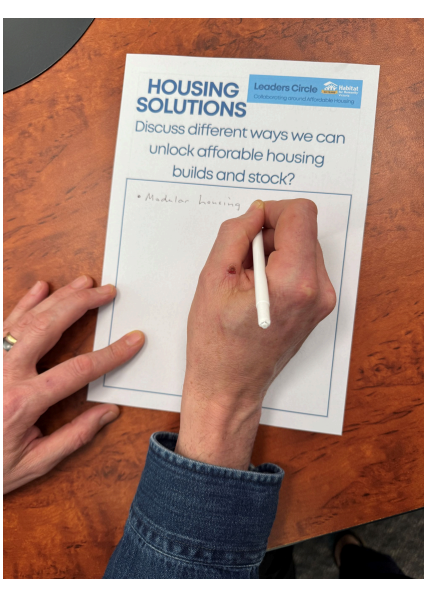

Hi $[UD:FIRST_NAME||]$

We are sure you'd agree that Spring is a wonderful season, with new life and a reminder of hope. As a cherished part of our Habitat family, you help us build homes, communities and hope.

In fact, we have been building hope for 50 years. Yes, its the 50th anniversary since Millard and Linda Fuller pioneered Habitat for Humanity. Five decades on, and we are still building homes, communities and hope!

Read on to hear how we are partnering with like-minded organisations and leaders in the journey of building hope for another 50 years and beyond.

Collaborations for affordable housing

Recently, we invited a number of key leaders and industry experts into a collaborative space where we discussed the current issues of housing affordability and security, and how we can maximise outcomes in the coming years.

We focussed on impact, housing solutions and funding. People were clearly moved as they heard Stacey* share how her Habitat home is transforming her's and her family's lives. It was powerful to see people share about ways we can work together to enable us to build more affordable homes.

These conversations are continuing into funding, housing project possibilities and advocacy. And we continue to partner with families in their housing journey with ongoing support and long-term interest-free loans.

Habitat helps Launch Housing

As you know, housing unaffordability and insecurity has become a fundamental social issue in our society. To help combat this, we partner with other housing charities to help them sustain secure housing for people at risk of homelessness.

Launch Housing is one of these partners, and Yassin, one their facility managers, shares how we are making such a difference with them.

"Housing changes lives. We work with people from all walks of life, supporting their housing needs and helping people with homelessness."

"And we intentionally partner with organisations like Habitat – because lasting change requires collective action."

"The Brush with Kindness team came in and made our space a bright and open space, with a clean fresh look. The teams were amazing. David was so kind and careful with our space, ensuring the work was done to a high standard. The volunteers really connected with the work we do and were able to see firsthand what it is like in front-line services."

"I have to say that the work you do changes lives. Thank you to the team of volunteers and especially David who was a pleasure to work with. I would recommend people volunteer to do Brush with Kindness, because they're doing it because they care."

Thank you Yassin. We are glad that Brush with Kindness provides practical hands-on improvements for people experiencing housing insecurity.
